

Committee positions

Online ad

Regulatory Committee Members, IMPRESS: The Independent Monitor for the Press

4 half days per year, nominal appointment fee plus expenses

IMPRESS is the only regulator to be approved under the Royal Charter on self regulation of the press. We are seeking to appoint up to six individuals with extensive experience of journalism or media law to sit on ad hoc regulatory committees alongside current Board members. Members should have experience of fair and impartial decision making and must be independent of the press and government and be willing to comply with IMPRESS's Code of Conduct. Regulatory Committees meet to adjudicate on complaints that are made to IMPRESS or are initiated by IMPRESS, about the published content, news gathering activities or internal governance standards of regulated publications.

Individual members are unlikely to be nominated to sit on more than four Committees each year. The time commitment for each Committee is normally around half a day which includes the reading of background papers, a meeting to discuss the decision and review and comment on adjudication drafts. Remote attendance by tele or video conference is available for all meetings.

To find out more and apply for this role, visit www.impress.press/about-us/vacancies.html

If you would like to informally discuss the role please contact Lexie Kirkconnell Kawana, Head of Regulation, on 020 3325 4281

Closing date:

Interviews:

Print classified ad (50 words)

Regulatory Committee Members, IMPRESS: The Independent Monitor for the Press

4 half days per year, nominal appointment fee plus expenses

We are seeking to recruit up to six individuals with extensive experience of journalism or media law to sit on ad hoc regulatory committees alongside Board members. Contact appointments@impressreg.org.uk

Board position

Online ad

Non-Executive Director, IMPRESS: The Independent Monitor for the Press

Up to 2 days per month, £4,500 per annum plus expenses

We are seeking to recruit a new board member with skills and experience of legal and regulation issues to help IMPRESS fulfil its mission to rebuild public trust in print and online news. You will play a major role in the corporate governance, strategic development and regulatory decision making of a new and fast-growing press regulator which puts public protection, accountability and press freedom at the centre of its work. Our board strives to reflect the plurality of the publications that we regulate. We encourage applications from candidates who are from backgrounds that are under-represented in media organisation boardrooms.

To find out more and apply for this role, visit www.impress.press/about-us/vacancies.html

If you would like to informally discuss the role please contact CEO Ed Procter on 020 3325 4280

Closing date:

Interviews:

Print classified ad (50 words)

Non-Executive Director, IMPRESS: The Independent Monitor for the Press

Up to 2 days per month, £4,500 per annum plus expenses

We are seeking to recruit a board member with legal and regulatory experience to help IMPRESS fulfil its mission to rebuild public trust in print and online news.

Contact appointments@impressreg.org.uk